Science of the Mind
How Jurors, Judges and Other Key Decisionmakers Really Think

For many of us, the practice of law is about persuading jurors, judges, and others to make the decisions we want them to make. But how much do we really know about how the decisionmaking process inside the human brain works? Research conducted by cognitive scientists and others has led to fascinating revelations about how human beings actually make decisions.

At this CLE, the Honorable Michael Simon, US
District Court Judge, and trial consultant Christopher Dominic of Tsongas Litigation Consulting will discuss this research and its implications for practicing lawyers.
